

UF Health Pathology Laboratories

Dermatopathology

The mission of University of Florida Health Pathology Laboratories' Dermatopathology Laboratory is to provide timely, expert diagnostics for referring physicians; further the understanding of the microscopic and molecular manifestations of skin diseases; and help guide patient therapy. Our team of board-certified dermatopathologists is made up of physicians with diverse backgrounds and interests, and they regularly interact with other experienced pathologists in the UF Department of Pathology, Immunology and Laboratory Medicine to ensure accurate diagnoses for even the most challenging cases.

UF Health Pathology Laboratories makes a wide array of diagnostic tests and services available, including routine microscopy, extensive special and immunohistochemical stains and an ever-expanding on-site molecular test menu. We strive to improve our service and test offerings daily, and we look forward to assisting our clients with superlative diagnostic patient care.
